Later on, the main stage was given to the teams and the riders attending the 2007 GP campai and each team was introduced to the press.

Youthstream President, Giuseppe Luongo, said: "First of all, thanks to our host Daniele Bon his structure is so far the best we have ever seen in Supermoto. We are looking forward organizing the FIM Supermoto of Nations here on September 30. It will be the race of the yea we will have also an American and many more. Youthstream believes in Supermoto a lot, and will try our hardest to develop it. I have to thank the organizers, the teams and the riders, who all doing a great job. Supermoto is like a son for us, and we are careful fathers."

Dunlop and Youthstream made the FIM Supermoto World Championship even more interest in 2006, with Dunlop entering the Championship as the unique tyre supplier. Dunlop w continue its cooperation with Youthstream until 2009, and the company's Motorcy Motorsport EU Manager Steve Male stated: "It is a busy start to the season for Dunlop motorcycle racing, and we made another investment with Youthstream in Supermoto, because believe it is a good sport and it has a bright future ahead. We want to make it grow; the m brand tyre system we brought to the Championship gave the teams access to the same quality to the same amount of tyres."

In 2007 DBO President Danilo Boccadolce will organize four Supermoto events in total: the I Supermoto of Nations, the first GP in Castelletto di Branduzzo, the GP of Italy in Turin, and GP le Alpi del Mare in Busca. Boccadolce said: "We organize these four events, one of whic the Supermoto of Nations that this year will host also an American team. I am very proud of cooperation with Youthstream and FIM. Franciacorta is a great location for the Nations, then all know the quality of Busca and Castelletto. Turin is a news: the GP will be held in a histor location (Lingotto), and I am sure we will have a huge crowd attending the event."

FIM/CMS President Dr. Wolfgang Srb confirmed the Federation's commitment for this com season: "The commitment is unchanged, it is still a young Championship, but we are work very well on its development with our contractual partner Youthstream. We are improving yea year, and the quality of the structures is getting better and better as we can see here Franciacorta. The staff at Busca is working hard, which means organizers want to improve t We welcome the arrival of new teams and new riders, and this is good for the future of the F Supermoto World Championship."
